UNIVERSITI Malaya's Accounting Club (Umac) has launched a new website, which stands to benefit varsity students with informative features.

According to the club's council member Trevis Lee, the website's key selling point was its feature which allowed visitors to link up with professional accounting bodies.

A partnership with Jobstreet.com also gives visitors job vacancy updates on the website.

"Our tie-up with professional bodies and commercial firms shows that we are serious in our approach to foster greater links between students and the relevant bodies in accounting circles," he said.

The sponsoring bodies are the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants, the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, and the Malaysian Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The club also received a one-year anti-virus protection package from Avira, a German security solutions provider.

Trevis added that the website was created to encourage greater interaction between students and to facilitate information sharing.

"The website connects all UM accounting undergraduates via interactive forums.

"Registered members will also be able to receive the latest newsletters regarding Umac's projects."

The website was officially launched with a memorandum of understanding (MoU) signing between jobstreet.com and Umac.

The MoU was signed by Jobstreet.com country manager Chook Yuk Yng and UM Faculty of Business and Accountancy's Assoc Prof Dr Ruzita Jusoh, who represented the Dean.

Also present at the ceremony were jobstreet.com marketing executive Tan Hong Sun and Umac adviser Dr Rusnah Muhamad.

The MoU certifies Jobstreet.com as the website's official job portal, which enables students to deposit their resumes to receive first-hand information on the job market.

The company would also conduct annual resume and career clinics for the university's Faculty of Business and Accountancy students.

The website is at www.umac.um.edu.my.
