Accountants broaden their horizon

With international accounting standards being adopted on a global scale, it's no wonder the accounting profession has become one that extends beyond borders. Accounting is one of the most transferable skills, and expertise in this field is always in demand due to its specialised nature. This is more so for professionally-qualified accountants who have gone through the rigorous training required to become technically-sound accountants with a breadth of relevant experience.

The MICPA-CAANZ Programme is a professional accounting programme jointly offered by The Malaysian Institute of Certified Public Accountants (MICPA) and Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) that arms its graduates with globally-recognised and widely accepted credentials – Certified Public Accountant, Malaysia or CPA (M), and Chartered Accountant, Australia & New Zealand or CA (ANZ).

The training offered by the Programme embeds measures to ensure quality in the development of professionals, such as the need to be mentored for 3 years. There is also a need to complete at least the final 3 out of 5 modules of the Programme whilst working to ensure candidates are able to apply their technical knowledge in the real world.

The exams are designed to be open book as the Programme aims to enhance a candidate's critical and analytical thinking skills which are more relevant and much needed in the working world. The Programme also incorporates an element of soft skills in the final module that requires candidates to work as a team and give presentations in a simulated work setting, based on real life case studies.

Many graduates of the MICPA-CAANZ Programme have gone on to have exciting careers abroad.
